Open People.

Invite someone.

Invite someone. They can do what you do: set up the draw, take entries, run the day, hand out codes. They cannot decide who runs the event. You can invite up to five people besides you.

1. Who is this for? A name. It is what the activity log shows when they change something, and it is the only name rallyxrally keeps for them.
2. Press Make a link, and send them the link.

They sign in and the event appears in their list. Everything they do is recorded in the activity log under the name you gave.

You can remove someone from the same list. It takes effect on their very next request.
