FOLLOWING ALONG

Following the scores

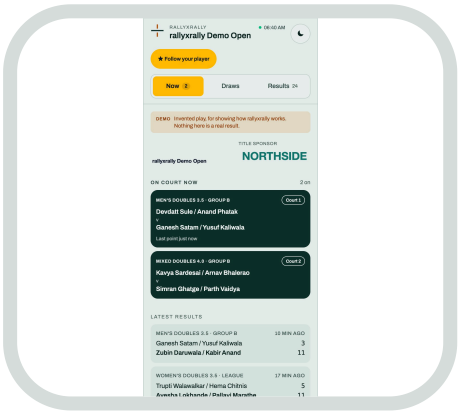

Open the event's link on a phone. See what is on court now, the draws and tables, and the results. No sign-in.

Updated 24 October 2026 1 min read

Open the link the organizer sent, which looks like `name.rallyxrally.com`. There is nothing to install and no sign-in.

Now

The first tab shows what is happening.

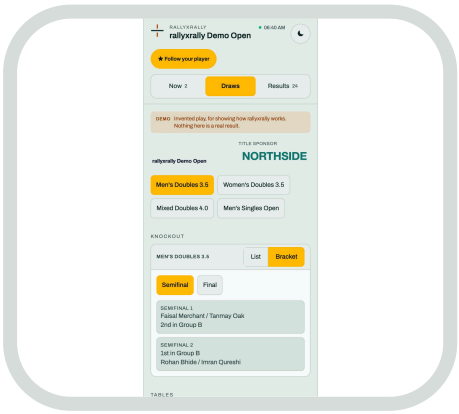

Now.

- On court now: each match with its court, the category and both sides.
- Latest results: the most recent first, with how long ago.
- Updated just now at the foot says when the page last heard.

Draws

Pick a category. You see its knockout and its tables, for each group: who has played, who has won and the points.

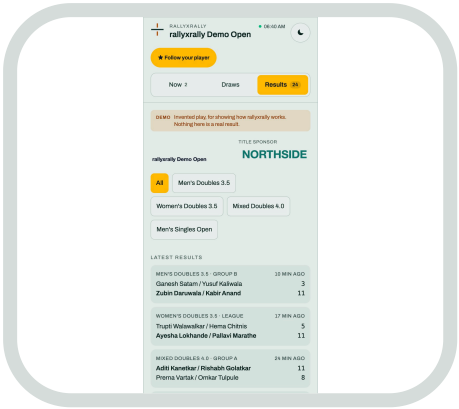

Draws.

Until every match is in, a table says Not every match is in, so the order is provisional.

Results

Every result, with a chip for each category.

Results.

Follow your player

Press ★ Follow your player and type a name. The page then leads with them: where they stand, what is next, what has happened. It is kept on your phone and goes nowhere: rallyxrally does not know who you follow, and does not track spectators.

If a page says nothing

The organizer decides when the draw is public. Before that, the page says there is nothing to show yet.

For organizers

Send people the first address on your Overview: The scores. Create your event.
